NEXT TOURNAMENT - Mar 4-5, 2017

Chickahominy River/James River Yellow Perch

Highest point and heaviest Yellow Perch

(Write Up By Glenn Carter – Tournament Chairman)

In reviewing the VAC database it is easy to see that the majority of the Yellow Perch entries are made in February and March, a grand total of 295 entries. It is also easy to see that the Chickahominy River appears many times. All the big creeks feeding the Chick and the James have Yellow Perch. The VAC database is your friend if you are targeting a specific fish and where to catch them. Lots of information here for the curious.

Walkers Dam is usually the center of activity during the annual Yellow Perch run. There are many creeks feeding the Chick and most have yellow perch. Also keep in mind that the creeks on the James also have Yellow Perch but the best of the run will usually be found at Walkers Dam and just down river below the dam. This is pretty much because they can't go any farther, they stack up at the dam and just down river from the dam.

Awards will be made for the highest point as well as the heaviest Yellow perch.

All entries should be entered into the database as a "Tournament" entry by the end of the day of March 6. If you do not have access to make an electronic entry, please call your entry to Glenn Carter at 804-824-2389 and leave your entry information.

Again, all entries need to be made by midnight March 6th.

Chairman Gary Green handled the details of the banquet and Director Bob Brown sold the raffle ticket sales.

For a list of the 2016 Award Winners, see page 11 of the January Issue of The Angler or the Member's Area of the VAC Website and click on "Annual Awards Listings". The Banquet closed with President Bobby Broughton swearing the new Directors and the Officers for the coming 2017 Angling Year.

BANQUET REPORT – 2016 VAC ANNUAL AWARDS BANQUET

Twenty-four VAC members along with 14 guests enjoyed an evening at Sam Miller's Restaurant, site of the February 4th VAC Awards Banquet. President Bobby Broughton officiated at the Banquet and delivered the President's Remarks covering VAC activities and accomplishment for the just completed 2016 Angling Year. Guest Bob Duncan, Executive Director of the Virginia Department of Game and Inland Fisheries, gave a short dissertation about the activities of the Department.

Bob Duncan Addressing the 2016 VAC Awards Banquet

Awards for the 2016 Angling Year were presented as well as individual angling achievement awards completed in the same Angling Year. Danny Noland announced the winners and Buddy Noland worked the trophy table. Stuart Lee again caught, smoked and donated a rockfish for enjoyment prior to the sit down dinner. Banquet

2016 AWARDS BANQUET WINNERS AND SOME RAFFLE WINNER HISTORY

Before we announce the raffle winners for the 2016 Awards Banquet, a little historical commentary is in order. It's a well-known fact to most VAC Members that the "Luck of the Nolands" is definitely a legend in the Virginia Anglers Club raffle program, both at Membership Meetings and Annual Banquets. Not only does it help to have been born a Noland or hook a Noland as a husband, but the Luck can rub off on those seated at their Banquet table. Sound far-fetched? Read on, Anglers and weep.

Going back into the achieves of Banquet history, the Legend was alive and well in four of the past five years. At the 2012 Awards Banquet, Anna Noland ("Pudge" to most) was a raffle winner and so was guest of the VAC Susan Hopkins who was seated at the "Noland Table". Next up, the 2013 Banquet was a bummer for the Nolands... no Noland won any Banquet Raffle. At the 2014 Banquet Member Ryan Noland's wife Tami was a raffle winner. Last year (2015 Banquet), Jeff Doughty's wife Angie won a raffle; naturally seated at the "Noland Table". And finally, at the just held 2016 Awards Banquet, "Pudge" Noland won not one, but TWO banquet raffle prizes. Even one Member who had eighty-four raffle tickets in the game could not even put a little dent in the Legend.

This year's raffle winners were:

Anna Noland – Bill Gallasch Fly Box and the Framed Gyotaku LM Bass Print Rob Choi

Rob Choi – TFO Clouser 7 Weight Fly Rod, Lamson Reel and Scientific Angler Line (Outfit generously donated by Bass Pro Shops, Ashland, VA)

Rob Choi and Anna Noland With Anna's Two Raffle Prizes

IGFA TRUSTEES RATIFY CHANGES AT ANNUAL MEETING CHANGES IMPACT VAC ANGLING RULES

The IGFA's Board of Trustees recently met for their annual meeting where they ratified several significant changes to the IGFA's International Angling Rules, World Record Requirements and recognized game fish species eligible for all tackle World Records. The full text of the related IGFA News Release can be found at: <https://www.igfa.org/News/ruleschange2017>

The revised International Angling Rules become part of the Angling Rules in which the VAC recognizes catch submissions for Club Record Catches and Annual and Individual Awards.

World Record Requirement changes take effect April 1, 2017

The deletion of certain species recognized by the IGFA for all tackle World Record catch consideration does not impact the species that the VAC recognizes (see list on page 7)

The Virginia Anglers Club is sending a letter to the IGFA stating objection to the deletion of the species from the list of All Tackle Records as stated in the News Release.

Individual Members are encouraged to express their personal opinions in E-mails or letters to the IGFA.

"Catchy Comments"

By Stuart Lee

February fishing has been slow as it always seems to be with few members fishing, but there have been a few exceptions. Art Conway caught a 2 lb. 12 oz. Chain Pickerel on Chickahominy Lake on 4 Spin for 202 points. Rucker McDonald turned in the first Hickory Shad of the year, a 1 lb. 11oz. fish caught on the Tennessee River in Chattanooga. Glenn Carter caught a 4 lb. 1 oz. Smallmouth Bass on the Pamunkey River on 4 Plug, earning 294 points. Our youngest member Max Moran caught a very big largemouth bass, fishing in a private pond and learned one of those life lessons that he will never forget. That lesson is never go fishing without a scale to weigh your fish in case you encounter a fish of a lifetime.

Yellow Perch fishing has started, but the best of that is still ahead, and shad fishing is just around the corner.

In early March of 1976, my wife Brenda and I went to Key West to stay and fish a week with Bill and Gene DuVal. As in most years, we had lots of wind which limited where we could fish so we spent quite a bit of time in Key West harbor. We caught a few Tarpon, some Jack Crevelles and Ladyfish, and Bill kept saying he had something really special planned if we could get a calm day.

At this time, Lorans were not operable in the Key West area, GPSs were far off in the future so all navigation was done using dead reckoning. I never heard why the Loran signals were blocked, but I always assumed it was something to do with the Navy's strong presence in the area.

The weatherman finally predicted a day of light and variable winds so Bill put his secret plan in motion. Bill was friends with Capt. Bob Montgomery who was inducted into IGFA's Captain and Crew Hall of Fame in 2016. Bob began as a light tackle guide in 1969 after getting out of the Navy and was, at that time, one of only three guides in the Key West area that was a non-troller. Some of you may remember the American Sportsman television episode when Terry Bradshaw was fly fishing for tarpon in a staked out skiff on a flat. He made a cast and hooked a tarpon; the fish jerked the rod out of his hands, and he dove in and saved the rod but lost the fish. Bradshaw's captain that day was Bob Montgomery.

Bill's plan was for our wives to go with Captain Montgomery, and he and I would follow in his boat to make the long run NW of Key West into the Gulf of Mexico to fish a wreck that had little or no fishing pressure. Captain Montgomery was the master in being able to locate these wrecks with a compass (the one on his boat was huge) and a stop-watch.

We started the day following behind Bob's boat Blue Runner to the buoy at the end of NW channel. Bob got the boat on course at the proper RPMs and when he goes by this buoy, he starts his stop-watch and off they go with Bill and me following about 100 yards behind. After about a half hour, I tell Bill that I do not see how this is ever going to work, finding a small wreck using this method. The least little current, the slightest deviation off course, or even a small difference in your boat's speed would mean you would never find the target. We ran for over an hour and a half when I see Bill's wife Gene in the stern of the boat with a buoy in one hand and the buoy weight in the other and Capt. Bob looking at the stop-watch. He tells her to throw the buoy over, and I am still very skeptical; both boats slow down and turn back toward his buoy.

I look over the side of the boat and see fish everywhere, some on top and some that look like clouds down deep. We mark the wreck and before we can start to fish, Captain Bob comes over to us and says you guys stay here; we are going to look at another spot fairly close by and will probably be back shortly. He picks up his buoy and makes a big circle. When he runs over the wreck, he starts the stop- watch and off they go.

Bill and I start fishing, and we catch lots of Amberjack, some Cobia, many Barracuda and Snappers of assorted varieties. Bill caught a big Mangrove Snapper on Fly that won the Miami Metropolitan Tournament that year. We continued fishing and sometime in the afternoon when we were both tired and sunburned, we realized that Captain Bob and our wives were not coming back, and it was time to make our way home.

We ran back to Key West Oceanside Marina and saw our wives waiting on the dock for us. They asked how our day was, and we report we had a great day. They proceed to tell us that when they got to their wreck, the Cobia were everywhere; they caught Cobia from the time they got there until they left to come in, catching twenty some fish. Gene DuVal had caught two world record Cobia, a 55 Lb. fish on 6 lb. line and a 56Lb. 4 oz. fish on 12 lb. line. These were the first two of what would become her 139 IGFA line class and fly rod world records.

To this day, I am amazed that Bob Montgomery, who passed away in 2004, could find a small wreck 35 miles out in the Gulf, but even more amazed he could navigate from that wreck to another wreck using a compass and a stop-watch. No wonder he is in the IGFA's Captain and Crew Hall of Fame.

“CHANGES TO RECOGNIZED GAME FISH SPECIES”

Eligible Game Fish Species

The IGFA maintains All-Tackle world records for thousands of different species, however only certain game fish species are eligible for the additional line class, tippet class (fly rod), and Junior Angler world record categories. In an effort to better recognize premier game fish species around the world that merit having line classes, the IGFA will no longer be accepting line class, tippet class (fly rod), and Junior Angler world records on the 45 species of freshwater and saltwater fish listed below:

Freshwater: rock bass, shoal bass, white bass, yellow bass, bluegill, black bullhead, brown bullhead, yellow bullhead, burbot, white catfish, black crappie, white crappie, freshwater drum, Florida gar, shortnose gar, spotted gar, oscar, European perch, white perch, yellow perch, chain pickerel, red piranha, shorthead redhorse, silver redhorse, sauger, American shad, hickory shad, splake, green sunfish, redbreast sunfish, redeer sunfish, tench, warmouth, lake whitefish, mountain whitefish, round whitefish

Saltwater: Pacific barracuda, black seabass, Japanese parrotperch, spotted parrotperch, Florida pompano, doublespotted queenfish, black-blue rockfish, Atlantic spadefish, oxeye tarpon

This change is effective February 1, 2017.

FEBRUARY FLY OF THE MONTH

Master fly fisher Lefty Kreh created this fly, Lefty's Deceiver, in the late 1950s. Lefty wanted a fly that was big enough to catch saltwater fish but would fly thru the air with ease. The fly is made of hair from a deer's tail and feathers.
